Read the passage carefully and answer the Questions given below:

There was a war between the Greeks and the Trojans because Paris, the prince of Troy, carried off Helen, the beautiful wife of a Greek King. The war continued for ten long years. It seemed that neither the side could ever win. Both the side were tired of war.

At last, Ulysses, a Great Chieftain, thought of a clever plan. He made most of the Greek ships sail away. He asked soldiers to build a monstrous wooden horse. The Trojan were in great joy. They thought that the Greeks had left being tired of the long siege of ten years. They saw the wooden horse and admired it. As there was no fear the Greeks, they took the horse inside the wall. They put away their swords and spears. They open their city gates. They sang and danced round the wooden horse. They held a great feast in honor of their victory over the Greeks. After the revelry and feasting, the whole city went to sleep peacefully at night.

Seeing this opportunity, a number of Greek soldiers came out of the hollow, wooden horse at night. At a signal from them, the ships that had not sailed away very far returned to the shore. The Greek soldiers entered the city. There was a terrible battle between the Greeks and the Trojans. The Greek became victorious and took Helen to Greece.
