Working towards searching new ideas and facts is always a tiresome job in the path of research as well as in real life. One has to face many pressures which ,in turn, demand support and assistance of innumerable people. I was fortunate to have the support and assistance of many known and unknown individuals who came out to lend their helping hand towards completion of this study. Showing gratitude towards those helping hands becomes necessary as “gratitude is the music of heart”.

I offer my heartfelt thanks to the God Almighty for giving me the strength and conviction to bring this work to completion.

I am deeply indebted to my guide Dr. Sulabha Natraj who proved in every way to be my “Friend Philosopher and Guide”. A woman of great deep erudition and understanding, her support and guidance paved the way for this research. It is indeed her continuous inspiration which helped me in the successful completion of this dissertation.

Besides my guide, I would like to thank the rest of my guides; Dr. Bharti Rathode, Dr.Nandita Nagar and Dr.Shamsha Emanuel, for their encouragement, insightful comments and motivation.

My research would have been incomplete without the enthusiastic and sincere cooperation of family members, students, teachers and administrators associated with the study. I am also grateful to them for sharing my faith in the power of education. My special thanks is due to Dr.Suresh Prajapati who helped me in drafting the report.

Lastly, I offer my regards to all of those who supported me in any respect during the completion of the dissertation.
